- Social Distancing Choir
Please see the note below which I received from Rev Andy Campbell, and an invitation to join in:

The Social Distancing Choir started on the first Sunday of lockdown, when I realized I had missed hearing and singing songs in praise of God. I invited neighbours to go out into their gardens and sing to God, and for their neighbours across hedges and roads. And it just kept going, so now I send out an email to fifty folk and many of them forward it on. So I know of folk across Argyll, Perthshire and Stirlingshire who now sing at 6.55pm on Sunday's and there is a couple in Leamington down south and as of last Sunday, Vancouver, Canada.

There's no reason why you shouldn't forward it - or indeed sing with us!!

Hi everyone,

Definitely a Sunday 6.55pm. (BST) "Sing" for all former and present Boys Brigade members, families, supporters and friends - It's 'Will your anchor hold In the storms of life' which is number 737 in CH4 ; and the choice of Richard and Edythe Bingham from Oban who are original members of the SDC.

The words come from a lady named Priscilla Owens of Baltimore in the US and were penned in 1882 while the usual tune was written by William Kirkpatrick of Philadelphia, but who was born in Northern Ireland.

The hymn was adopted by the Boys Brigade, Christian youth Organisation which was founded in Glasgow in 1883 : and also adopted by Dollar Academy who decided the melody should be called The Dollar Anthem !! 😊

The inspiration of the lyrics can be found in the New Testament - Letter to the Hebrews Ch 6 vs 19 Definitely a Social Distance Choir hymn that will benefit from being sung with enthusiasm and volume across roads hedges and gardens, to create memories in our listeners and hopefully to please God!
God bless and take care

Andy Campbell
